The number of spectators was estimated all the way from 6,000 to 10,000, and, contrary to expectations, negroes were no in the majority, and a large number of white men went to the track in autos,

Considered as an auto race, and com proved to be a burlesque that was not even amusing. Before the race there was some talk that Oldfield had agreed to let Johnson beat him, so the moving pictures would bring in more money, but this re-port was a mistaken one. Oldfield got away in the lead each time, and the negro pugilist, who has been arrested for exceeding the speed limit of many a city in this country, had far less chance of victory than Jeffries did when he faced Johnson at Reno,

Before the pair showed up at the line for the beginning of their first heat, there was a lot of talk among old-time racing enthusiasts in the grand stand about the famous negro jockeys who had performed at the track. There was a lot of discussion as to Johnson's chance to shine in the more strenuous occupation of a driver of racing automobiles, now and Sunday to any address in Alexandria for 40 that there seems to be no worthy oppon-ent for him in the field where he is reccents a month, ognized as the world's champion. New York, Oct. 25 .- For the last three nonths a shaggy black dog has been pacing up and down in front of the Kings County Hospital. Efforts of atendants to drive him away were vain. About August 1 an old man, sick and lestitute, Pete Donohue, went into the hospital with a dog which he called Bruin. The doctors ordered him into the dispensary and the dog refused to leave him.

The first day Donohue was up he went to the window, and there on the walk outside he saw Bruin gazing up at him. MORNING CHIT-CHAT.

IMITATE the wireless telegraph system by attuning my conversation to the vibrations of the instrument I have to deal with." So a very clever social leader, who can always set at ease and interest, and bring out absolutely any one, from the rawest school girl to the most learned college professor, explained her conversational success, when I asked for the key. "The reason so many people get along splendidly with a few friends but are seldom any good out of their own particular circle," she went on, "is because they don't pitch their conversations so that the other persons' mental wireless instruments are capable of receiving them.

"Each wireless instrument you know can only receive certain vibrations. It's just the same with people's minds. They are attuned to certain vibrations, and if you want to set them going you must pitch your vibrations to theirs.

"So many people have just one brand of conversation for all comers and others have different brands but don't know when to use them. I have especially in mind a girl who is bright and pretty and charming, and by all odds ought to be a tremendous success socially, but she isn't at all. I didn't understand why until I had her at my house for a week-end and then it was perfectly plain. She didn't pitch her conversations right. She delighted an authorman by talking spiritualism and mental telepathy and the fourth dimension and things of that sort with him, so she thought that would go with any one, and bored a nice young business man I wanted her to attract, by keeping it up with him. He didn't get the vibrations at all, you see, and was as bored as if he couldn't hear a word she said. It wasn't that she didn't say good things. Often what she said was brilliant, but most of the time she was sending it to an instrument that didn't get more than a third of her vibrations.

"First test the instrument you have to deal with by a few test mes sages of various sorts, to get the vibrations it is capable of receiving, and then be careful to send just the vibrations that will be fully receivedthat's my method."

Don't you think that's a pretty good idea? All of us have the experience of finding that we get along beautifully without any effort with certain people.

That is because their mental wireless apparatus is naturally attuned to ours. We almost always come away from conversations with them conscious of having pleased and been pleased. With other people, after putting ourselves out much more, we know we have failed utterly. This is because their mental apparatus was not attuned to ours, and we did not go about correcting the difficulty scientifically, did not send test messages and try to get their vibrations. Next time you meet one of these people, why not think of the wireless scheme?

I'm going to. RUTH CAMERON.
